

Could you explain how an appeals court could remand this back to the FCC when the Supreme court has upheld the FCC's approach of setting monthly price for UNEs?

Does this not mean that the Supreme Court has already ruled on the line sharing in favor of the FCC? Please advise. Thanks.